

LIFE PLAN COMMUNITY: PLAN FOR YOUR FUTURE & LIVE YOUR BEST LIFE NOW

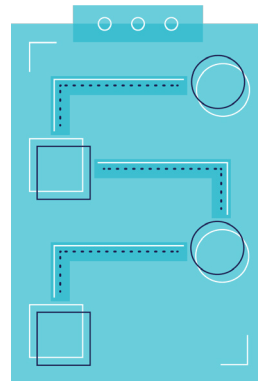

So, What Is It Exactly?

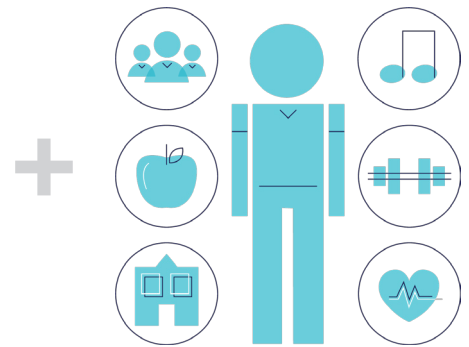

With an initial entrance payment and subsequent monthly fees, a Life Plan Community provides dynamic residential living for seniors today and offers on-site health care should it become necessary in the future.

What's In a Name?

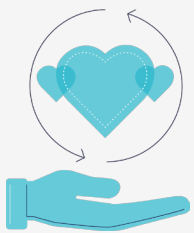

Life Plan Community is the new name for a CCRC—Continuing Care Retirement Community. Although providing future health care is key, these communities also offer lots of things that allow seniors to live the lifestyle they desire—including a variety of social, educational, cultural and fitness opportunities. A Life Plan Community is where living the best life now meets planning for the future.

PLANNING

LIVING

The Good Life, Included.

At a Life Plan Community residents have access to a wide variety of amenities and services that emphasize life enrichment and whole-person health. With completely maintenance-free living and a plethora of dining-options, residents have the freedom to live life on their terms.

Savings, Meet Security.

At most Life Plan Communities, seniors have access to a full continuum of quality, long-term health services, within the comfort of a familiar setting. Typically, seniors can recognize savings when comparing to other types of health care options. The specific terms and conditions vary by community.

Not So Taxing.

Residence in a Life Plan Community typically requires an entrance payment and a monthly fee. Part of both the entrance fee and monthly fee may qualify as a medical expense tax deduction.
